Raptor Identification

Join the Arkansas Valley Audubon Society for a presentation on raptor identification.

Colorado has 18 non-rare species of diurnal raptors. Debbie Barnes will present an information-packed program explaining how to identify Colorado's eagles, hawks, falcons and kites. Debbie has been studying the identification of these birds for 15 years and has developed a program to help separate the various species. Here is your chance to learn the tips that will greatly improve your identification skills.
